SEEKING TO AVOID SACKING OF MEXICO

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 14.—Anticipating the flight of Gen. Huerta from Mexican soil, Minister Suarez Mujica of Chile today took steps to assist if possible in a peaceful entrance by the Constitutionalists into Mexico City.

He disclaimed any responsibility on the part of the South American mediators, as such, for the undertaking, since mediation has been declared successfully closed. His work today is in the nature of a personal appeal to the Constitutional representatives to be headed by Foreign Minister Carbajal after Huerta shall have left the capital.

While no terms except those of absolute surrender will be discussed by Gen. Carranza and his spokesmen with any one on the Federal side, the Latin-American powers represented in this matter by Minister Suarez are anxious that the surrender be formally conducted. They hope in this way to avert a massacre and possible sacking of Mexico City by Constitutional soldiers.

To this end Dr. Suarez has conferred with Fernando Iglesias Calderon, one of the two men most likely to be nominated for the Mexican presidency. Calderon is reported to have declined to favor any dealings with Carbajal. He prefers that Mexico City be surrendered by its own municipal officials, since these are not directly the product of Huerta's favor. The Chilean minister has arranged for further conferences with the Constitutionalists, in which the wishes of both the revolutionary leaders and of the Latin-American diplomats in Washington will be made known.

It is understood here that the Washington government does not intend placing any obstacles in Carranza's way. The rebel leader, it is said, has been notified of the administration's attitude, but has been warned that should any excesses be committed in Mexico City the United States will withhold recognition.

In diplomatic circles here it is rumored that several European nations as well as South American countries will refuse recognition to any government Constitutionalists may see up unless Huerta be permitted to take a hand in launching the new regime.

Willie is another factor to be reckoned with," said an official today, "and one that is liable to materially complicate matters by maintaining peace."

WAKEFIELD TRIAL BEGINS.

Woman Accused of Being James Plew's Accessory in Murder.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New Haven, Conn., July 14.—Mrs. Bessie J. Wakefield today began her second fight for her life, when the task of selecting a jury for her trial on a charge of first degree murder, in aiding and abetting James Plew in the murder of her husband William O. Wakefield, on June 23, 1913, was begun before Judge Reed.

Having been once condemned to be hanged, the first woman under sentence of death in this state since Colonial times, Mrs. Wakefield appealed her case to the supreme court of the state and won a new trial.

Plew, who actually accomplished the brutal murder of Wakefield, whose body was found in the woods near Cheshire, Conn., was hanged on March 4 last for the crime, having admitted his guilt.

Mrs. Wakefield was in a highly nervous state when she was brought from the local jail to the court-room and her attorney feared that she might not be able to stand the strain of the trial as she had been ill recently. She was defended by Thomas P. Devine and Charles W. Bauby, the latter having recently become associated as counsel for the defense through the efforts of Mrs. W. J. Blickensderfer, a wealthy Stamford woman who has taken an active interest in the case of Mrs. Wakefield.

Mrs. Blickensderfer said today that she did not intend to attend the trial as she could do no good by her presence.

"My investigation of this case has convinced me that Mrs. Wakefield is innocent of the charge of murder against her and that she is a much wronged woman," he said.

"We shall fight for nothing less than her acquittal."

State Attorney Arnon A. Ailing had nearly one hundred talesmen in court when session began.

Our Drummers Are Going.

The Barmann drum corps and the Kingston City drum corps will leave Wednesday for Rhinebeck where they will attend the annual convention of the New York State Fifers, Drummers and Buglers Association. There will be a score of drum corps in line and prizes will be awarded for the best appearing corps in the different divisions. The local corps have been waiting for some time for this convention and expect to carry off high honors.

Traffic Resumed on U. & D.

The wreck of fourteen coal cars on the Ulster & Delaware railroad on Sunday evening was not cleared up until Monday afternoon and traffic has now been resumed. The tracks were ripped up for a distance of 600 feet and all passenger trains were forced to transfer their passengers around the wreck. Transportation has resumed its normal course today.

QUOTED TO HAVE THREATENED TO KILL DR. EDWIN CARMAN.

Mrs. T. H. Evans.

Freeport, L. I., July 14.—Mrs. T. H. Evans, wife of Dr. T. H. Evans of this city, is quoted as having threatened to kill Dr. Edwin Carman, in whose office Mrs. Louise Bailey was slain by a shot fired into the room.

"Loathing this man Carman," says Mrs. Evans, "and I do not recall what I said I would do to him."

ULSTER SITUATION MORE ENCOURAGING

COGNAC WILL SWAY HUERTA'S FUTURE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Belfast, July 14.—Despite the acute tension and threats of civil war between the Ulster Unionists and the Irish Nationalists, tranquility was reported throughout the province today and many of the special police who were sent here and to other communities to preserve order during the celebration of the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne were sent home.

Noisy celebrants were in the streets throughout the greater part of the night but their actions led to nothing serious. The preservation of good order is attributed mainly to the self restraint of the Nationalists (The supporters of home rule) who avoided doing anything which would result in friction.

Leaders of the Nationalists have counseled their followers to remain calm and to refrain from hostile demonstrations of any kind. John Redmond has sent telegrams to local Nationalist leaders impressing them with the importance of assisting the government in this way.

As a result the work of the authorities had been made much easier. They have allowed the Ulster Unionists to get rid of their surplus enthusiasm without any hindrance, secure in the theory that this is the safest way to handle a delicate situation.

The speech of Sir Edward Carson, delivered at Drumberg yesterday upon the occasion of the big Orange celebration, was carried in full in the Tory papers throughout the north of Ireland today and was commented upon as "a stirring and patriotic bugle call."

On the contrary the Liberal and Nationalist papers merely referred to it as "another of Sir Edward's outbreaks of bombast."

Since Orange Day passed quietly a feeling of optimism is growing and many who had feared an actual outbreak of hostilities and perhaps civil war, now regard as possible a pacific course on the part of the government which will solve the troublesome Ulster question.

Battleships in the Thames.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, July 14.—The U. S. battleships Missouri and Illinois of the practice squadron which left the United States last month, arrived in the Thames today. The Idaho was detached from the squadron in the Mediterranean. The ships carried 620 midshipmen of the first, second and third classes under command of Captain W. F. Fullam.

New Altitude Record.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Berlin, July 14.—Aviator Selbach, flying in a monoplane, created a new altitude record today when he ascended 25,000 feet or about five miles.

RAILROAD MEN THREATEN STRIKE

TORPEDO BOAT HIT BY A STEAMSHIP

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, July 14.—A strike of 55,000 enginemen and firemen employed on 98 railroads operating west of Chicago, which would tie up approximately 148,000 miles of railroad, is threatened today. About 90 per cent of the men have already voted to strike unless their demands are granted and at a conference this morning representatives of the Engineers' Brotherhood were expected to present their strike ultimatum to the railroad managers.

The opinion prevailed that when this has been done, the railroads would appeal to the United States Commissioner of Labor to take a hand in the situation.

"There is no compulsory arbitration in the United States," Warren S. Stone, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers said today. "If we feel justified in going on strike in this matter we shall do so."

Portland, Maine, July 14.—The steamship Governor Dingley, of the Eastern Steamship Company, on her way from St. John to Boston, collided with the United States torpedo boat Rodgers in Portland harbor today.

A large hole was stove in the Rodgers and the plate well forward and below the water line was ripped off. The steamer stood by to give aid but the torpedo boat succeeded in reaching Brown's wharf under its own power. A detachment of the Massachusetts Naval Reserve on their way to Bar Harbor was aboard the Rodgers.

Eye witnesses and marine men along the coast state that the Dingley was proceeding at a very slow speed.

Captain Clark started to back the steamer but could not prevent the collision.

Captain Dudley M. Pray, the executive officer on the Rodgers, states that he heard the signals and did not think the Dingley was in the harbor but thought the boat could pass on the other side. It relieved the Rodgers can be repaired at her mooring.

New Haven May Have Receiver

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 14.—While the official copy of the Interstate Commerce Commission's report recommending prosecution of New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad directors, was awaited at District Attorney Whitman's office today, talk of a receivership for the system was persistent in Wall street. In many quarters it was declared that a receivership would be the only method by which the railroad might be rehabilitated.

The present board of directors will meet here Thursday. It is said that there will be long deliberations to instituting civil suits against former directors to secure the return of millions lost through "Joy riding financial methods" and announcement of the action to be taken may not be made until next week.

Decision to be made by District Attorney Whitman as to what course he will follow, is awaited with intense interest. As many of the acts charged to the railroad management were committed in New York it is understood that prosecution for them will come under the jurisdiction of the local supreme court.

In this connection, however, the point is emphasized that the statute of limitations may be invoked to prevent punishment of those responsible for many of the acts pointed out by the commission.

MURDERED ON STREET.

Highwaymen Fail to Get Their Victim's Valuables.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Buffalo, July 14.—Martin Cooke, 39 years old, fell dying at the foot of his aged father in front of his home, No. 99 Illinois street, at 1:30 o'clock this morning after saying two men had attempted to rob him.

His hands were cut in an effort to get a diamond ring off his finger, and his head was beaten. He died before the Emergency Hospital ambulance reached the house.

In addition to his jewelry, Cooke had a valuable watch and considerable money. The robbers failed to get any of these.

The only clue to the murder is a gold watch found in the grass on the lawn near the scene of the tragedy. It is believed to belong to one of the highwaymen.

Mount Lassen Again Active.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Redding, Calif., July 14.—Mount Lassen, after several weeks of idleness, has resumed its activities and today a strange combination of black and white smoke or steam emerged from the crater. This was the seventh eruption of the volcano recently.

Mrs. Trask was unable to be present on account of serious illness. She has been unable to leave her bed since fire destroyed her summer cottage at Lake George last summer. The governor will leave for Albany on the 3:45 train.

PLOT TO POISON ACCUSED WOMAN

DRUG DEPOT RAIDED.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 14.—Sheriff Pettit of Nassau county today began the investigation of an alleged plot to poison Mrs. Florence Carman, who is held at the Mineola jail for the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey.

A letter containing a quantity of white powder, supposedly strychnine, was received by Mrs. Carman at the jail, with the advice scrawled on a single sheet of paper, "Take one dose of this and you will feel all right."

The authorities refused to discuss the letter or its contents until the powder could be analyzed and the work of tracing the letter started.

Mrs. Carman turned the letter and its contents over to her husband, Dr. Edwin Carman.

But the accused woman and her husband expressed considerable alarm over the missive and it was feared that the episode will have a serious effect upon the health of Mrs. Carman, unstrung as she is by her jail experience.

"My wife received a letter containing a white powder which I believe to be strychnine," admitted Dr. Carman.

"We have not the faintest idea as to who could have sent it. The letter and the powder have been turned over to the authorities to investigate."

The stage was set today for the presentation of the testimony by which Prosecutor Smith hopes to secure the indictment of Mrs. Carman for the murder. Stronger evidence against the beautiful woman held in the Mineola jail than was produced at the earlier investigation was promised for the grand jury inquiry.

The entire presentation of the case will take a matter of several days. At today's session District Attorney Smith aimed to show the actions of the murdered woman from the time she left her home on the day of the tragedy to the time she was taken from the office of Dr. Carman, dead from a revolver shot fired through the window.

DRUG DEPOT RAIDED.

Luxurious Den Found by Police in East Side Slums District.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 14.—Four detectives faced the set of a drug store, broke down the door and searched the place. As the door opened, a girl, who was in the place, drew a revolver and attempted to fire it, but the weapon was knocked out of her hand by one of the men who hurled a "Billy" at her.

Although the raided house is in the most squalid part of the East Side slums, the interior was fixed up with the luxury of a palace. The detectives found a large quantity of opium, heroin and other forbidden drugs. They arrested three women, one of whom owned the apartments, and a man.

BOMB WRECKS SALOON.

Wild Panic Follows Blowing Up of Building in Buffalo.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Buffalo, July 14.—The saloon of Matthew Orlando, on Trenton avenue, was wrecked by a bomb at 1:30 o'clock this morning. Glass in scores of windows nearby were shattered by the explosion.

Orlando, who lives over the saloon, grabbed his ten year old daughter from her bed and started to run down stairs. The stairs had been blown away and he fell into the cellar with his daughter in his arms. Neither was seriously hurt.

Within two minutes after the explosion 500 panic stricken men, women and children had rushed from their beds and crowded around the scene of the blow up.

Detectives from police headquarters and nearby stations were rushed to the scene. Firemen also were called.

Goldrick Buys a Barge.

Philip Goldrick, of Goldrick's Landing, purchased a barge of 400,000 capacity from the R. Lenahan Company on Monday. The boat was christened Nan Goldrick, in honor of Mr. Goldrick's granddaughter, who is also a granddaughter of James F. Dwyer. The boat will be used in transporting brick from the brickyard to the New York market.

A Busy Builder.

Killed the Doctor.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

SEEKING TO AVOID SACKING OF MEXICO

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Washington, July 14.—Anticipating the flight of Gen. Huerta from Mexican soil, Minister Suarez Mujica of Chile today took steps to assist if possible in a peaceful entrance by the Constitutionalists into Mexico City.

He disclaimed any responsibility on the part of the South American mediators, as such, for the undertaking, since mediation has been declared successfully closed. His work today is in the nature of a personal appeal to the Constitutionalist representatives to deal with the government to be headed by Foreign Minister Carbajal after Huerta shall have left the capital.

While no terms except those of absolute surrender will be discussed by Gen. Carranza and his spokesmen with any one on the Federal side, the Latin-American powers represented in this matter by Minister Suarez are anxious that the surrender be formally conducted. They hope in this way to avert a massacre and possible sacking of Mexico City by Constitutionalists.

To this end Dr. Suarez has conferred with Fernando Iglesias Calderon, one of the two men most likely to be nominated for the Mexican presidency. Calderon is reported to have declined to favor any dealings with Carbajal. He prefers that Mexico City be surrendered by its own municipal officials, since these are not directly the product of Huerta's favor. The Chilean minister has arranged for further conferences with the Constitutionalist leaders and of the Latin-American diplomats in Washington will be made known.

It is understood here that the Washington government does not intend placing any obstacles in Carranza's way. The rebel leader, it is said, has been notified of the administration's attitude, but has been warned that should any excesses be committed in Mexico City the United States will withhold recognition.

In diplomatic circles here it is rumored that several European countries as well as South American countries will refuse recognition to any government Constitutionalists may set up unless Huerta is permitted to take a hand in launching the new regime.

"While is another factor to be reckoned with," said an official today, "and one that is liable to materially complicate matters is the fact that in my opinion it is not long before he will make himself felt."

WAKEFIELD TRIAL BEGINS.

Woman Accused of Being James Plew's Accessory in Murder.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. New Haven, Conn., July 14.—Mrs. Bessie J. Wakefield today began her second fight for her life, when the task of selecting a jury for her trial on a charge of first degree murder, in aiding and abetting James Plew in the murder of her husband William O. Wakefield, on June 23, 1913, was begun before Judge Reed. Having been once condemned to be hanged, the first woman under sentence of death in this state since Colonial times, Mrs. Wakefield appeared her case to the supreme court of the state and won a new trial.

Plew, who actually accomplished the brutal murder of Wakefield, whose body was found in the woods near Cheshire, Conn., was hanged on March 4 last for the crime, having admitted his guilt.

Mrs. Wakefield was in a highly nervous state when she was brought from the local jail to the court-room and her attorney feared that she might not be able to stand the strain of the trial as she had been ill recently. She was defended by Thomas F. Devine and Charles W. Bauby, the latter having recently become associated as counsel for the defense through the efforts of Mrs. W. J. Bickensderfer, a wealthy Stamford woman who has taken an active interest in the case of Mrs. Wakefield.

Mrs. Bickensderfer said today that she did not intend to attend the trial as she could do no good by her presence.

"My investigation of this case has convinced me that Mrs. Wakefield is innocent of the charge of murder against her and that she is a much wronged woman," he said.

"We shall fight for nothing less than her acquittal."

State's Attorney Arnon A. Alling had nearly one hundred talesmen in court when session began.

Our Drummers Are Going.

The local corps have been waiting for some time for this convention and expect to carry off high honors.

QUOTED TO HAVE THREATENED TO KILL DR. EDWIN CARMAN.

Mrs. T. H. Evans. Freeport, L. I., July 14.—Mrs. T. H. Evans, wife of Dr. T. H. Evans of this city, is quoted as having threatened to kill Dr. Edwin Carman, in whose office Mrs. Louise Bailey was slain by a shot fired into the room.

"I loathe this man Carman," says Mrs. Evans, "but I do not recall that he said I would kill him."

ULSTER SITUATION MORE ENCOURAGING

COGNAC WILL SWAY HUERTA'S FUTURE

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Vera Cruz, July 14.—That President Huerta is drinking heavily again after an abstinence of several weeks and is wavering between a desire to escape from the country and a wish to fight his enemies to the end is the tenor of latest reports received from the capital today.

His steady companion in the drinking bouts is said to be Jose Maria Lozano, the former cabinet minister, whose influence several times has thwarted the efforts of foreign diplomats to induce Huerta to resign.

British Consul J. S. Hutchison, who is in daily communication with the capital, expects Huerta to announce his retirement tomorrow, but he is not absolutely certain that the dictator will not at the last moment, in a rage inspired by liberal libations of cognac, decide to defy his foes and fall fighting.

Officers of the international fleet now gathered here are watching case it is found necessary to send a force of marines to the capital everything will be in readiness for prompt action.

TRASK MEMORIAL UNVEILED.

Dedictory Address Delivered at Saratoga by Governor Glynn.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Saratoga Springs, N. Y., July 14.—Governor Martin H. Glynn delivered the dedicatory address this morning at the dedication of the memorial to the late Spencer Trask, first chairman of the New York State Reservation, held in Convention hall.

The governor arrived in the village last evening and was escorted to the home of Mrs. Spencer Trask at Yaddo, by the Hon. George Foster Peabody and Village President J. M. Kelly. Company L. of the National Guard, acted as an escort to the governor this morning when he was driven from Yaddo to the hall where the exercises took place. Governor Glynn paid tribute to the services of Spencer Trask as the first chairman of the reservation.

After the exercises in Convention hall, the ceremony of the unveiling took place in Congress Park. Miss Frederica Mitchell of Brooklyn, a relative of Mrs. Trask, removed the veil. At 1 o'clock Governor Glynn was given a reception and banquet in the Casino.

RAILROAD MEN THREATEN STRIKE

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Chicago, July 14.—A strike of 55,000 engineers and firemen employed on 98 railroads operating west of Chicago, which would tie up approximately 148,000 miles of railroad, is threatened today. About 90 per cent of the men have already voted to strike unless their demands are granted and at a conference this morning representatives of the Engineers' Brotherhood were expected to present their strike ultimatum to the railroad managers.

The opinion prevailed that when this has been done, the railroads would appeal to the United States Commissioner of Labor to take a hand in the situation.

"There is no compulsory arbitration in the United States," Warren S. Stone, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers said today. "If we feel justified in going on strike in this matter we shall do so."

TORPEDO BOAT HIT BY A STEAMSHIP

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Portland, Maine, July 14.—The steamship Governor Dingley, of the Eastern Steamship Company, on her way from St. John to Boston, collided with the United States torpedo boat Rodgers in Portland harbor today.

A large hole was stove in the Rodgers and the plate well forward and below the water line was ripped off. The steamer stood by to give aid but the torpedo boat succeeded in reaching Brown's wharf under its own power. A detachment of the Massachusetts Naval Reserve on their way to Bar Harbor was aboard the Rodgers.

Eye witnesses and marine men along the coast state that the Dingley was proceeding at a very slow speed.

Captain Clark started to back the steamer but could not prevent the collision.

Captain Dudley M. Pray, the executive officer on the Rodgers, states that he heard the signals and did not think the Dingley was at all below but thought the could pass on the other side. He believed the Rodgers can be repaired at her mooring.

NEW HAVEN MAY HAVE RECEIVER

By Telegraph to The Freeman. New York, July 14.—While the official copy of the Interstate Commerce Commission's report recommending prosecution of New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad directors was awaited at District Attorney Whitman's office today, talk of a receivership for the system was persistent in Wall street. In many quarters it was declared that a receivership would be the only method by which the railroad might be rehabilitated.

The present board of directors will meet here Thursday. It is said that there will be long deliberations to instituting civil suits against former directors to secure the return of millions lost through "Joy riding financial methods" and announcement of the action to be taken may not be made until next week.

Decision to be made by District Attorney Whitman as to what course he will follow, is awaited with intense interest. As many of the acts charged to the railroad management were committed in New York it is understood that prosecution for them will come under the jurisdiction of the local supreme court.

In this connection, however, the point is emphasized that the statute of limitations may be invoked to prevent punishment of those responsible for many of the acts pointed out by the commission.

MURDERED ON STREET.

Highwaymen Fail to Get Their Victim's Valuables.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Buffalo, July 14.—Martin Cooke, 39 years old, fell dying at the foot of his aged father in front of his home, No. 99 Illinois street, at 1:30 o'clock this morning after saying two men had attempted to rob him.

His hands were cut in an effort to get a diamond ring off his finger, and his head was beaten. He died before the Emergency Hospital ambulance reached the house.

In addition to his jewelry, Cooke had a valuable watch and considerable money. The robbers failed to get any of these.

The only clue to the murder is a gold watch found in the grass on the lawn near the scene of the tragedy. It is believed to belong to one of the highwaymen.

Mount Lassen Again Active.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Redding, Calif., July 14.—Mount Lassen, after several weeks of idleness, has resumed its activities and today a strange combination of black and white smoke or steam emerged from the crater. This was the seventh eruption of the volcano recently.

PLOT TO POISON ACCUSED WOMAN

By Telegraph to The Freeman. New York, July 14.—Sheriff Pettit of Nassau county today began the investigation of an alleged plot to poison Mrs. Florence Carman, who is held at the Mineola jail for the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey.

A letter containing a quantity of white powder, supposedly strychnine, was received by Mrs. Carman at the jail, with the advice scrawled on a single sheet of paper. "Take one dose of this and you will feel all right."

The authorities refused to discuss the letter or its contents until the powder could be analyzed and the work of tracing the letter started.

Mrs. Carman turned the letter and its contents over to her husband, Dr. Edwin Carman.

Both the accused woman and her husband expressed considerable alarm over the missive and it was feared that the episode will have a serious effect upon the health of Mrs. Carman, unstrung as she is by her jail experience.

"My wife received a letter containing a white powder which I believe to be strychnine," admitted Dr. Carman.

"We have not the faintest idea as to who could have sent it. The letter and the powder have been turned over to the authorities to investigate."

The stage was set today for the presentation of the testimony by which Prosecutor Smith hopes to secure the indictment of Mrs. Carman for the murder. Stronger evidence against the beautiful woman held in the Mineola jail than was produced at the earlier investigation was promised for the grand jury inquisition.

The entire presentation of the case will take a matter of several days. At today's session District Attorney Smith aimed to show the actions of the murdered woman from the time she left her home on the day of the tragedy to the time she was taken from the office of Dr. Carman, dead from a revolver shot fired through the window.

DRUG DEPOT RAIDED.

Luxurious Den Found by Police in East Side Slums District.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. New York, July 14.—Four detectives faced the door of a luxurious den at No. 122 Cherry street on the East Side this morning. As the door was opened, a girl, who was in the place, drew a revolver and attempted to fire it, but the weapon was knocked out of her hand by one of the men who hurled a "Billy" at her.

Although the raided house is in the most squalid part of the East Side slums the interior was fitted up with the luxury of a palace. Detectives found a large quantity of opium, heroin and other forbidden drugs. They arrested three women, one of whom owned the apartments, and a man.

BOMB WRECKS SALOON.

Wild Panic Follows Blowing Up of Building in Buffalo.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Buffalo, July 14.—The saloon of Matthew Orlando, on Trenton avenue, was wrecked by a bomb at 1:30 o'clock this morning. Glass in scores of windows nearby were shattered by the explosion.

Within two minutes after the explosion 500 panic stricken men, women and children had rushed from their beds and crowded around the scene of the blow up.

Detectives from police headquarters and nearby stations were rushed to the scene. Firemen also were called.

PROMPT ACTION PAYS.

The Lesson of Bubonic Plague in New Orleans.

Bubonic plague has invaded New Orleans. Two cases have been found in the Industrial Home of the Volunteers of America, one death resulting, the post mortem confirming the diagnosis. Thanks to the ceaseless vigilance of the quarantine officers of the United States public health service, this is but the second instance in which this dread disease has gained a foothold on American soil in the last twenty years, during which time it has made one of its periodic and mysterious circuits of the globe. The four world-wide epidemics of bubonic plague in previous centuries, while carrying unprecedented death and disaster to the human race, did not touch the North American continent, at that time unsettled by civilized men and cut off from communication with the outside world. The announcement of bubonic plague within our borders caused consternation and panic

throughout the country, while a hundred or three hundred years ago the disease would probably have been unrecognized and would have smoldered in its characteristic fashion until a large number of cases and many centers of infection had developed. Today through the knowledge given us by the scientific medicine, we know the cause, the method of transmission and the necessary measures for controlling this dread

"black death" of history. Knowledge alone, however, will never save.

The knowledge must be applied promptly and energetically. No time must be lost in stamping out the infection, which in the case of bubonic plague, is transmitted by rats and fleas. The prompt action of the authorities in New Orleans is in gratifying contrast to the inactivity, delay and evasion of the responsible officials in San Francisco under similar circumstances ten years ago.

There has been no hesitation, no attempt to suppress the facts, no "in-digitation" over the announcement that the health of the city was in danger. New Orleans has learned by years of bitter experience with yellow fever that temporizing and denial always give disease more time to develop. The local health officers promptly recognized the disease.

The state health authorities were immediately notified and took action at once. Before the facts had had time to appear in the daily press,

the United States public health service had been called on for assistance. Surgeon-General Blue and Surgeon-Creel are now in charge of the situation. Wide experience

PROMPT ACTION PAYS.

The Lesson of Bubonic Plague in New Orleans.

Bubonic plague has invaded New Orleans. Two cases have been found in the Industrial Home of the Volunteers of America, one death resulting, the post mortem confirming the diagnosis. Thanks to the ceaseless vigilance of the quarantine officers of the United States public health service, this is but the second instance in which this dread disease has gained a foothold on American soil in the last twenty years, during which time it has made one of its periodic and mysterious circuits of the globe. The four world-wide epidemics of bubonic plague in previous centuries, while carrying unprecedented death and disaster to the human race, did not touch the North American continent, at that time unscathed by civilized men and cut off from communication with the outside world. The announcement of bubonic plague within our borders

ELKS TO VOTE ON DRY CLUB ROOMS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Denver, Colo., July 14.—With one of the most important questions which has ever confronted the order lurking in the back ground—whether or not the sale of liquor shall be abolished in the Elks' homes of the country—the golden jubilee convention of Elks got down to business this morning. Over 2,000 accredited delegates were present, and the entire crowd of visitors in the city exceeds 30,000.

The business of the morning was the election of officers and the selection of a place for the 1915 convention.

There is a general desire to meet on the coast next year because of the Panama Exposition at San Francisco.

Raymond Benjamin of Napa, California, assistant attorney general of California, and past chairman of the Elks judiciary committee, has no opposition for grand exalted ruler.

The race for the office of grand esteemed leading knight amounted to almost a scramble. Patrick Henry Shields, mayor of Clarksburg, W. Va., wants reelection. He is opposed by several others.

TROUBLE FEARED IN SANTO DOMINGO

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 14.—Foreigners are leaving Puerto Plata, Santo Domingo, fearing internal disorders, Captain Eberle of the cruiser Washington, reported to the navy department today.

Minister Sullivan, who is en route to the United States, and Consul Johnson, conferred with Captain Eberle last night as to the situation in Northern Santo Domingo. Sullivan left Puerto Plata today on the Clyde liner Seminole. Conditions in the city are quiet but there is occasional rifle firing.

The gunboat Sacramento left Puerto Mexico, last night for Port Au Prince, Hayti. No marines will be landed on Haytian soil unless conditions warrant intervention. The Hancock left Vera Cruz this morning with 295 marines for Guantanamo, which is to be used as a naval base for any demonstration against the island which may become necessary in the near future.

Because of the serious conditions of affairs in Hayti and Santo Domingo, which may result in international complications, the state department is enforcing a strict censorship on all news from the West Indian republics.

SEVERE HEAT WAVE SCORCHES RUSSIA

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

St. Petersburg, July 14.—Russia is suffering from the most severe heat wave which has visited the empire in half a century. Reports to the city from many quarters today brought news of extensive forest fires and death. The smoke from the fires is approaching this city, obscuring the sun at midday and giving a sharp tang to the hot, lifeless air.

Whole forests are aflame. Peat beds on the moors are burning and many villages have been wiped out. Enormous damage has been done to crops and the suffering of the people is intense.

A fire is burning around the great Schusselburg dynamite factory, which covers several acres near Neva, and it is in danger of being destroyed.

Five thousand soldiers are fighting the peat and forest fires around Neva in an effort to prevent the destruction of the factory.

A whole army of peasants are at work throughout Russia, digging trenches and blasting lanes to prevent the spread of the flames.

Bridges have been burned and railway traffic cut off. Communication has been cut off from many sections of the empire by the burning of telegraph and telephone poles and the melting of the wires.

Famine threatens to follow annihilation of the crops.

It is impossible to estimate the money damage but it will be many millions of dollars.

Hamlets and small towns in the path of the devouring flames have been deserted and the people have taken refuge along the shores of lakes and rivers, or in the cities.

Cities in the interior report that a pillar of dense black smoke can be seen hanging over the sky, becoming bigger and thicker day by day.

The thermometer here registered 100 degrees Fahrenheit at midnight and the temperatures at midday throughout the empire range from 110 to 125.

Jones May be Confirmed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, July 14.—White House officials today predicted that Thomas D. Jones, nominated for the federal reserve board, would be confirmed by the senate by a majority of four to ten votes, they claim to have positive information that Jones will win in the senate without difficulty. There is no change in the status of the Warburg case and the White House is awaiting developments from the senate.

Health Officer to be Removed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, July 14.—Because he failed to quarantine a teacher of one of the schools at Amenia who had diphtheria, Dr. Lyman E. Rockwell, health officer, has been asked to resign by the state department of health. Dr. Rockwell was notified that if his resignation was not in by tomorrow he would be removed.

GRASSHOPPER PEST DESTROYING CROPS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Utica, N. Y., July 14.—The crops in Fulton county apparently are doomed by the plague of grasshoppers that has struck the vicinity of Gloversville. Reports today indicated that the few crops of Hamilton county will also be ravaged by the swarms of insects that have settled in clouds on many of the farms. Millions and millions of red legged grasshoppers are flying from one field to another, stripping as they go and leaving ruin behind them. Thoroughly alarmed the farmers near Gloversville have petitioned the state to act. Although inspectors have been sent to the locality it was announced today that the state authorities could do but little aside from giving advice. The entire farming section around Gloversville is seriously threatened by the increasing hordes of pests and strong wind with a dry spell may bring the advance guard of the great host up the Mohawk valley.

Farmers of Fulton and Hamilton counties do not hesitate to say that the clouds of insects have caused greater damage than any other blight within their memory. Thousands of dollars' worth of crops are being destroyed each day by the ferocious eaters, and the swarms are constantly increasing.

BURHANS FOR SHERIFF.

Petition Circulator an Aspirant For Bull Moose Nomination.

Edwin Burhans has announced that he is a candidate for sheriff on the Bull Moose ticket, that is if they have a ticket in the field this fall. Mr. Burhans has been identified with the herd since its organization in Ulster county by Henry B. Ingram, and attained considerable prominence when the party came into existence by his methods of circulating petitions as brought out by his testimony before Referee John T. Cahill in a court action.

The local Bull Moose will call a committee meeting as soon as it can be definitely learned whether the big boss "Teddy" Roosevelt has made up his mind to run. It is understood in local Bull Moose circles that the Big Stick is still undecided. If the boss finally decides that he will not run it is quite likely that no meeting of the herd will be called as the local Bull Moose are aware of the fact that without the aid of the Big Stick they can not poll enough votes or secure enough contributions to run a political campaign.

Even within the Big Stick in the field the voting strength of the Moose has dwindled to such an extent that it will not have any effect on election results in Ulster county next fall.

ELKS TO VOTE ON DRY CLUB ROOMS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Denver, Colo., July 14.—With one of the most important questions which has ever confronted the order lurking in the background—whether or not the sale of liquor shall be abolished in the Elks' homes of the country—the golden jubilee convention of Elks got down to business this morning. Over 2,000 accredited delegates were present, and the entire crowd of visitors in the city exceeds 30,000.
The business of the morning was the election of officers and the selection of a place for the 1915 convention.
There is a general desire to meet on the coast next year because of the Panama Exposition at San Francisco.
Raymond Benjamin of Napa, California, assistant attorney general of California, and past chairman of the Elks' judiciary committee, has no opposition for grand exalted ruler.
The race for the office of grand esteemed leading knight amounted to almost a scramble. Patrick Henry Shields, mayor of Clarksburg, W. Va., wants re-election. He is opposed by several others.

TROUBLE FEARED IN SANTO DOMINGO

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, July 14.—Foreigners are leaving Puerto Plata, Santo Domingo, fearing internal disorders, Captain Eberle of the cruiser Washington, reported to the navy department today.
Minister Sullivan, who is en route to the United States, and Consul Johnson, conferred with Captain Eberle last night as to the situation in Northern Santo Domingo. Sullivan left Puerto Plata today on the Clyde liner Seminole. Conditions in the city are quiet but there is occasional rifle firing.
The gunboat Sacramento left Puerto Mexico, last night for Port Au Prince, Hayti. No marines will be landed on Haytian soil unless conditions warrant intervention. The Hancock left Vera Cruz this morning with 295 marines for Guantanamo, which is to be used as a naval base for any demonstration against the island which may become necessary in the near future.
Because of the serious conditions of affairs in Hayti and Santo Domingo, which may result in international complications, the state department is enforcing a strict censorship on all news from the West Indian republics.

SEVERE HEAT WAVE SCORCHES RUSSIA

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
St. Petersburg, July 14.—Russia is suffering from the most severe heat wave which has visited the empire in half a century. Reports to the city from many quarters today brought news of extensive forest fires and death. The smoke from the fires is approaching the city, obscuring the sun at midday and giving a sharp tang to the hot, lifeless air.
Whole forests are aflame. Peat beds on the moors are burning and many villages have been wiped out. Enormous damage has been done to crops and the suffering of the people is intense.
A fire is burning around the great Schusselburg dynamite factory, which covers several acres near Neva, and it is in danger of being destroyed.
Five thousand soldiers are fighting the peat and forest fires around Neva in an effort to prevent the destruction of the factory.
A whole army of peasants are at work throughout Russia, digging trenches and blasting lanes to prevent the spread of the flames.
Bridges have been burned and railway traffic cut off. Communication has been cut off from many sections of the empire by the burning of telegraph and telephone poles and the melting of the wires.
Famine threatens to follow annihilation of the crops.
It is impossible to estimate the money damage but it will be many millions of dollars.
Hamlets and small towns in the path of the devouring flames have been deserted and the people have taken refuge along the shores of lakes and rivers, or in the cities.
Cities in the interior report that a pillar of dense black smoke can be seen hanging over the sky, becoming blizzards and thicker day by day.
The thermometer here registered 100 degrees Fahrenheit at midnight and the temperatures at midday throughout the empire range from 110 to 125.

Jones May be Confirmed.
By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, July 14.—White House officials today predicted that Thomas D. Jones, nominated for the federal reserve board, would be confirmed by the senate by a majority of four to ten votes, they claim to have positive information that Jones will win in the senate without difficulty. There is no change in the status of the Warburg case and the White House is awaiting developments from the senate.

Health Officer to be Removed.
By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Albany, July 14.—Because he failed to quarantine a teacher of one of the schools at Amenia who had diphtheria, Dr. Lyman E. Rockwell, health officer, has been asked to resign by the state department of health. Dr. Rockwell was notified that if his resignation was not in by tomorrow he would be removed.

GRASSHOPPER PEST DESTROYING CROPS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Utica, N. Y., July 14.—The crops in Fulton county apparently are doomed by the plague of grasshoppers that has struck the vicinity of Gloversville. Reports today indicated that the few crops of Hamilton county will also be ravaged by the swarms of insects that have settled in clouds on many of the farms. Millions and millions of red legged grasshoppers are flying from one field to another, stripping as they go and leaving ruin behind them. Thoroughly alarmed the farmers near Gloversville have petitioned the state to act. Although inspectors have been sent to the locality it was announced today that the state authorities could do but little aside from giving advice. The entire farming section around Gloversville is seriously threatened by the increasing hordes of pests and strong wind with a dry spell may bring the advance guard of the great host up the Mohawk valley.
Farmers of Fulton and Hamilton counties do not hesitate to say that the clouds of insects have caused greater damage than any other blight within their memory. Thousands of dollars' worth of crops are being destroyed each day by the ferocious eaters, and the swarms are constantly increasing.

BURHANS FOR SHERIFF.

Petition Circulator an Aspirant For Bull Moose Nomination.
Edwin Burhans has announced that he is a candidate for sheriff on the Bull Moose ticket, that is if they have a ticket in the field this fall. Mr. Burhans has been identified with the herd since its organization in Ulster county by Henry B. Ingram, and attained considerable prominence when the party came into existence by his methods of circulating petitions as brought out by his testimony before Referee John T. Cahill in a court action.
The local Bull Moose will call a committee meeting as soon as it can be definitely learned whether the big boss "Teddy" Roosevelt has made up his mind to run. It is understood in local Bull Moose circles that the Big Stick is still undecided. If the boss finally decides that he will not run it is quite likely that no meeting of the herd will be called as the local Bull Moose are aware of the fact that with the aid of the Big Stick they can not poll enough votes or secure enough contributions to run a political campaign.
Even with the Big Stick in the field the voting strength of the Moose has dwindled to such an extent that it will not have any effect on election results in Ulster county next fall.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JULY 14, 1914.

A police judge in Elizabeth, N. J., has suspended sentence upon a bum on condition that he get married in thirty days, because he "needs a wife to take care of him." They do not seem to have heard anything about eugenics down that way. If a woman were arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct she would find it all but impossible to get a man to marry her for reformative purposes, but this is exactly the sort of job which appeals to a large section of womankind, and the New Jersey tough will have no difficulty in keeping his bargain with the silly judge. This difference between the dispositions of the sexes is well worth study by those who do not yet know where they stand on the question of allowing women to vote.

It is not very creditable to the people of our city that so many of them should become excited over the proselyting campaign conducted here by the promoters of a new religious sect. All varieties of vice flourish here to some extent. Fifty people die every year because of improper sanitary conditions, as is shown by the report of the State Board of Health. Yet nobody is specially disturbed. Big things attract no attention, but there is something in the nature of a popular uprising when propagandists of a new creed strike town. It is not a rational explanation that these visitors are gulling the people out of money, since they have obtained only pennies where exploiters of fake mining stock and the like have gathered in thousands of dollars. There is sense in opposing sects which endanger the public health or morals, but if their sole offense is preaching foolishness and taking up color, they are not worth a way, who is on the question of orthodoxy, and who accepts his decrees without question?

When a man discovers that he does not know it all he has taken the first important step toward the attainment of wisdom, and there are indications that President Wilson is in this situation. He is holding a series of conferences with business men regarding the commercial situation and advisability of enacting new regulatory laws. The other day he had a long talk with delegates from the Chicago Chamber of Commerce, which he afterward admitted had been helpful to him. A despatch from Washington says that he will have a discussion with a member of a prominent New York banking house tomorrow, and that "this is regarded as another step in the movement of the Administration to establish a better relationship with the business world." It is quite a relief to know that specialists in business are hereafter to be given hearings instead of letting all new laws be framed by theorists and demagogues of the Bryan school of thought. It may also be that in the future some attention will be paid to the advice of trained diplomats, so that we shall escape such disgraceful plights as the one in which an absurd Mexican policy has placed us.

There was never a worse discomfited lot of prophets than those who predicted that the celebration of the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne last Sunday would make the north of Ireland reek with blood. As a matter of fact, there is no report that anybody went so far as to make faces at anybody else. In the first place, nobody can feel any real interest in a battle which occurred as far back as the year 1690. It is true that the fight was between Catholics and Protestants, and Ireland is still divided between these factions, but the issues between them have altered with time. Moreover, advertised riots never come off. If anybody had predicted the draft riots in New York they would not have occurred. It is in the very nature of such uprisings that they must spring from sudden impulses. The stickists which are so frequently a sequel to unpremeditated quarrels between individuals would seldom occur if the participants could have a prophetic glimpse into the future. There would have been no Civil War in this country if the people of that day could have obtained a panorama of the results to flow from it. According to this theory, it is improbable that there will be war in Ireland over the home rule question. There has been too much talk about it in advance. All of us dislike to hear the talk of prophets of evil and trouble, but they probably do more good than any other class of men, just by preventing folks from engaging in undertakings which would result disastrously.

WOMEN AT THE FIGHT.

Newspapers and critics in general are having more or less to say about women who crowded to the prize fight in London, and many of them, in a sort of told-you-so way, are declaring that it is in line with the rest of erratic things that women are doing in their fast growing efforts to burn old barriers away.

Because, you see, it was not women from the rag-tag of the city who watched the boxing trial of strength in the British Olympia, but "quality" ladies from society's heights, all clad in their gladiatorial array, all enthusiastically clapping their hands and adding to the gaiety of the arena, and not at all disturbed, so they say, at the prospect that blood might flow at the last.

And the critics would not be quite so disturbed were it not for the fact that they fear the new fashion may travel overseas, as fashions have a way of doing, and that our femininity of high degree—and, of course, all the others—may be infected by the boxing fever.

Long before the time for the contest, the question was pretty well aired in London, and the public had not yet made up its warring mind whether it was proper for women to go or no. But when the evening of the long heralded fight came around, there were maids and matrons just as if they were gathering for one of the gladiatorial contests in the long, long ago, or as if they were Spanish ladies waiting for a bull fight to begin.

Or perhaps, they might have been taken for women in one of our social gatherings, anticipating the opening of festivities—so natural, and at home they appeared.

At any rate, there they were, smiling upon the contestants, and likely the battlers for supremacy boxed all the madder for their presence close to the ring.

In a way, it is right funny to see the patient resignation with which a waiting public accepts the latest movements of women in their reaching out for equality with men. It mildly deplores when it is powerless to prevent, then, with a sigh for the good old days, it bows to the last decree.

But in another way, it is not always so funny, for there are many reasons why one is inclined to take sides with the critics in their regret for the passing of some of the old ideals for women.

But, in spite of the fact that the socially elect of London's femininity did flock in surprising and perhaps significant numbers to the ring where two men fought until one was pretty badly defeated, and in spite of the fact that anything given that kind of a start in London is quite likely to be copied over here, one is disposed to say with Dr. Anna Howard Shaw—don't let's worry.

Possibly it may happen that the very same scenes may be enacted over here in the fulness of time, but if that day ever comes the women in attendance will be drawn there through the craving for something new in the way of entertainment. There are, and always have been, almost from the beginning of time, thoughtless and unoccupied women, as Dr. Shaw puts it, who have nothing to do but follow the latest whim. If it leads to encounters hitherto counted just a bit questionable, even for men, they may cheerfully follow on, but the great, busy army of intelligent, purposeful women will calmly, unbrokenly move along, their time and their minds too thoroughly occupied with other things to pause to clap their hands over fights.

Though, be it remembered, that same busy army mightily likes to see men physically well-trained, and if boxing is part of the training, let them box to their heart's content, but it does seem advisable to let them box and train all alone. For the contests, particularly the professional games, are much too rough-and-tumble for "gentle women" to see. And beside, there's always the chance of a "knockout" at the last, which is not supposed to appeal over-much to women of gentle variety.

In passing, there are two distinct worlds, are they not? One for the women who sigh for more amusements to conquer and who fritter their lives away, and one for the others who work for the merest pittance, from dawn to darkest night.

And when each thinks and speaks of the other, what are the words that are said?

FRANCES SHAFER.

Spilled the Effect.
"What's the matter?" a colleague asked of the advertising manager. "Matter enough. The fools have placed Mme. Soprano's testimonial for a cold cure on the same page with the announcement that she had a sore throat and couldn't sing."—Topeka Journal.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"Why, say, a man's as safe in Mexico as he is in Chicago." "Is it as bad as that?"—Life.

"Mrs. Smith has a husband who pays her unremitting attention when she is away." "I would rather have a husband of cash remitting attention."—Baltimore American.

Mrs. Eke—"Isn't it awful how food supplies have gone up?" Mrs. Wye—"Mercy, yes. Why, every time I visit my grocer's I feel as if I were at my dressmaker's."—Boston Transcript.

Mrs. Crabshaw—"You seem to have become resigned to Freddie's going in swimming." Mrs. Cobwiger—"You see, dear, it's about the only way I can get him to wash his face."—Judge.

"Militant suffragettes have been destroying pictures!" "I wish one would happen around my fire before I'm called on to climb a stepladder and take charge of the mural decorations."—Washington Star.

Crawford—"How are those portable bungalows? Are they comfortable?" Crabshaw—"That depends on what kind of a wife you have. During the summer mine insisted on moving to a new place four different times."—Puck.

"I like your face, sir," said the inquisitive stranger. "It's a cheery face, a face with a mission, is the face of a man who believes in reducing the burdens and annoyances of his fellowmen."

"Mebby it is," said the little man. "You're the sort of man, who believes in banishing the shadows." The inquisitive man went on. "Nope," replied the little man with a vigorous shake of his head. "You've lost me this time. I'm the man who puts up the awnings."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Procrastination.

A gentleman who had been in Chicago only three days, but who had been paying attention to a prominent Chicago belle, wanted to propose, but was afraid he would be thought too hasty. He delicately broached the subject as follows: "If I were to speak to you of marriage, after having only made your acquaintance three days ago, what would you say to it?"

"Well, I should say never put off till tomorrow that which you should have done the day before yesterday."

Got His Audience.

Senator Nathan P. Bryan of Florida is a ball fiend, and never lets business in this respect interfere with pleasure. But he is as much of an expert on horseback as he is in deciphering batting averages, while his prowess as a cowpuncher would make even Buffalo Bill jealous. It was his ability to crack a whip like unto a pistol shot which won him one day an audience for his electioneering speech.

He was in a small town where every one was too busy gossiping to attend any political meeting. Not a soul, except an old colored man asleep on a barrel, two boys playing marbles, a mulatto three dogs, was in sight. The senator, heat shimmered over the dusty road and the hum of bees filtered through the quivering air. Folks were warm and did not want to stir about.

Bryan saw a long leather whip lying on a store porch. Jerking it up, he swung it around his head and snapped it with a loud crack that sounded like a pistol shot. In five minutes there were 20 men in sight, as well as about 50 small boys, a dozen women, a dog and several hundred dogs—and Bryan had his audience!—Washington Star.

Of Two Evils.

John Sloan the painter moralized at a New York exhibition before one of Homer's red-haired Magdalens. "The evil that woman do!" said Mr. Sloan, adjusting his princely calmly. "Of two evils," he added, "men choose the lesser—save when the greater is the prettier."—New York Telegraph.

A Composite Statue.

There stands within the walls of the little parish church of St. James, in Yarmouth, Isle of Wight, what is probably the most curious statue in the world. This is a fine white marble representation of Sir Robert Holmes, a dashing seaman, who was captain of the Wight from 1667 to 1692. Sir Robert, as well as being an admiral bold, was also a bit of a joker. On one of his nautical raids he captured a French vessel that had on board an unfinished statue intended to represent Le Grand Monarque, Louis XIV. Holmes did not make the sculptor, who was on board, walk the plank, but he did compel that artist to finish the statue in the likeness of his captor. The head was that of Holmes, but the body was that of King Louis XIV. The contrast is striking and humorous, and, as the guide book says, "the statue is well worth a visit, if only to see the incongruity of partnership between a buccanier face and a regal body."—New York Tribune.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

July 14, 1894.—Fourteenth Separate Company went to state camp at Peekskill.

July 14, 1904.—The Hudson River Association of Red Men met at Newburgh.

"The Gallant Band of 26" and 500 followers serenaded Judge Parker. Edward C. Reynolds and Miss Nina M. Goldsmith married at Poughkeepsie.

House of Mrs. Kelly on Broadway slightly damaged by fire.

Sam's Dilemma.

Sam's friends were reasoning with him patiently at the street corner. "Now, Sam, it's time you went home. That's the best place for you." "It's this way," argued the erring brother. "If I go home now she'll say I'm drunk. If I don't go home she'll say I'm drunk. It's this 'ere suffragette movement that's set 'em harping. I've a good mind to go 'ome and break the winders."—London Tit-Bits.

SCHOOL SUPPLY CONTRACTS.

Board of Education Awards Them at a Special Meeting.

An adjourned meeting of the board of education was held on Monday afternoon at the superintendent's office in School No. 7, at 4 o'clock. The meeting was attended by trustees Kearney, Washburn, De Witt, Halloran, Wells, Rafferty, Salzman, and Superintendent Michael. The reading of the minutes of the last meeting was called for, opening the bids for the supplies and other materials that will be needed next year, was taken up. Mr. Michael said that he had sent letters to all the different book stores in the city asking them to submit their bids on the next year's supplies and that but two had submitted estimates, those being Forsyth & Davis and William O'Reilly.

Forsyth & Davis submitted the following bids: For drawing supplies $582.01; for text books $1,660.36; for general supplies $718.39; for library books $547.96; for paper $574.55.

William O'Reilly's bids were as follows: For drawing supplies $532; for text books $1,675.75; for general supplies $670; for library books $547.96; for paper $333.71.

Upon motion it was carried that the contract be awarded to the lowest bid of each respective division of the entire contract so that Forsyth & Davis received the contract for the text books and library books and William O'Reilly the contracts for the drawing supplies, the general supplies and the paper.

Bids for the laboratory supplies of both Kingston and Ulster Academies were asked for and no one responded but William Eltinge, who gave an estimate of $382.01 for Kingston Academy and $18.82 for Ulster Academy. This bid did not cover all the supplies that are required, but the additional things needed will only amount to a few dollars more, so the contract was awarded to Mr. Eltinge.

Mr. Clearwater, from the telephone company, was present and spoke about the installation of the thirty phones throughout the new high school. The board had expected to have a private phone system in the building and had included the expense of building it in the contract that was let to Mr. Kelly. Mr. Clearwater said that the private line was far inferior to the public one and that the board would be constantly required to keep it in repair beside the first cost of buying all the phones and wires. The board pays now nearly two hundred dollars a year for phones and if it decides to accept the company's proposition it will cost but $579.60 a year, which includes not only the first cost of construction but all the repairs that would be required for the year. This also includes the phones now in the different schools.

The president of the board and the superintendent were instructed to interview Mr. Kelly and see how much he would reduce his contract if the telephone company's proposition was accepted.

The meeting then adjourned.

Peculiar Furnishing of Bird's Nest.

A golfer who was playing over the St. Neots (Huntingdonshire, England) links the other day hit his ball into a hedge, and after searching for it some time without success, observed a bird's nest. ## BANKS SENTENCE SUSPENDED.

Child Beater Pleads Guilty to a Charge of Assault.

County court convened on Monday afternoon to dispose of the case of Harry Banks, who was charged with inhumanly beating a two year old child. He pleaded not guilty to the charge and Lawyer Frank Merritt was assigned to the case. In the meantime Banks was examined by a number of doctors in regard to his sanity, but they failed to make a report. Mr. Merritt was unable to be present at the hearing but informed the district attorney that he would withdraw his plea of not guilty and enter a plea of guilty to the charge of assault in the third degree. The assistant district attorney, Mr. Traver, said that in view of the fact that Banks had been in jail for so long a time, and that a number of other people were dependent upon him to some extent for their livelihood, he would ask the court to suspend sentence. Judge Jenkins granted the request after giving the prisoner a reprimand.

The case of Harry Shoemaker, who was committed to jail by Judge McKenzie of Port Ewen for making a threat to assault one Kate Deyo, was also brought up. Shoemaker was represented by Charles W. Deyo, who said that the threat was made in Shoemaker's house and was not made as a threat but that both parties were having a dispute and that Shoemaker had said some hard words while temporarily angry, and asked that the defendant be discharged. Mr. Traver said that in view of the facts, he would not press the case. The judge advised Shoemaker to leave the wine alone and to keep away from Port Ewen. He was discharged.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JULY 14, 1914.

A police judge in Elizabeth, N. J., has suspended sentence upon a bum on condition that he get married in thirty days, because he "needs a wife to take care of him." They do not seem to have heard anything about eugenics down that way. If a woman were arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct she would find it all but impossible to get a man to marry her for reformative purposes, but this is exactly the sort of job which appeals to a large section of womankind, and the New Jersey tough will have no difficulty in keeping his bargain with the silly judge. This difference between the dispositions of the sexes is well worth study by those who do not yet know where they stand on the question of allowing women to vote.

It is not very creditable to the people of our city that so many of them should become excited over the proselyting campaign conducted here by the promoters of a new religious sect. All varieties of vice flourish here to some extent. Fifty people die every year because of improper sanitary conditions, as is shown by the report of the State Board of Health. Yet nobody is specially disturbed. Big things attract no attention, but there is something in the nature of a popular uprising when propagandists or a new creed strike town. It is not a rational explanation that these visitors are guilting the people out of money, since they have obtained only pennies where exploiters of fake mining stock and the like have gathered in thousands of dollars. There is sense in opposing sects which endanger the public health or morals, but if their sole offense is preaching foolishness and taking up coling money, they are not worth a thought. On the question of orthodoxy, and who accepts his decrees without question?

When a man discovers that he does not know it all he has taken the first important step toward the attainment of wisdom, and there are indications that President Wilson is in this situation. He is holding a series of conferences with business men regarding the commercial situation and advisability of enacting new regulatory laws. The other day he had a long talk with delegates from the Chicago Chamber of Commerce, which he afterward admitted had been helpful to him. A despatch from Washington says that he will have a discussion with a member of a prominent New York banking house tomorrow, and that "this is regarded as another step in the movement of the Administration to establish a better relationship with the business world." It is quite a relief to know that specialists in business are hereafter to be given hearings instead of letting all new laws be framed by theorists and demagogues of the Bryan school of thought. It may also be that in the future some attention will be paid to the advice of trained diplomats, so that we shall escape such disgraceful plights as the one in which an absurd Mexican policy has placed us.

There was never a worse discomfited lot of prophets than those who predicted that the celebration of the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne last Sunday would make the north of Ireland reek with blood. As a matter of fact, there is no report that anybody went so far as to make faces at anybody else. In the first place, nobody can feel any real interest in a battle which occurred as far back as the year 1690. It is true that the fight was between Catholics and Protestants, and Ireland is still divided between these factions, but the issues between them have altered with time. Moreover, advertised riots never come off. If anybody had predicted the draft riots in New York they would not have occurred. It is in the very nature of such uprisings that they must spring from sudden impulses. The fistcuffs which are so frequently a sequel to unmediated quarrels between individuals would seldom occur if the participants could have a prophetic glimpse into the future. There would have been no Civil War in this country if the people of that day could have obtained a panorama of the results to flow from it. According to this theory, it is improbable that there will be war in Ireland over the home rule question. There has been too much talk about it in advance. All of us dislike to hear the talk of prophets of evil and trouble, but they probably do more good than any other class of men, just by preventing folks from engaging in undertakings which would result disastrously.

WOMEN AT THE FIGHT.

Newspapers and critics in general are having more or less to say about women who crowded to the prize fight in London, and many of them, in a sort of told-you-so way, are declaring that it is in line with the rest of erratic things that women are doing in their fast growing efforts to burn old barriers away.

Because, you see, it was not women from the rag-tag of the city who watched the boxing trial of strength in the British Olympia, but "quality" ladies from society's heights, all clad in their gladiatorial array, all enthusiastically clapping their hands and adding to the gaiety of the arena, and not at all disturbed, so they say, at the prospect that blood might flow at the last.

And the critics would not be quite so disturbed were it not for the fact that they fear the new fashion may travel overseas, as fashions have a way of doing, and that our femininity of high degree—and, of course, all the others—may be infected by the boxing fever.

Long before the time for the contest, the question was pretty well aired in London, and the public had not yet made up its warring mind whether it was proper for women to go or no. But when the evening of the long heralded fight came around, there were maids and matrons just as if they were gathering for one of the gladiatorial contests in the long, long ago, or as if they were Spanish ladies waiting for a bull fight to begin. Or perhaps, they might have been taken for women in one of our social gatherings, anticipating the opening of festivities—so natural, and at home they appeared.

At any rate, there they were, smiling upon the contestants, and likely the battlers for supremacy boxed all the madder for their presence close to the ring.

In a way, it is right funny to see the patient resignation with which a waiting public accepts the latest movements of women in their reaching out for equality with men. It mildly deplors when it is powerless to prevent, then, with a sigh for the good old days, it bows to the last decree.

But in another way, it is not always so funny, for there are many reasons why one is inclined to take sides with the critics in their regret for the passing of some of the old ideals for women.

But in spite of the fact that the socially elect of London's femininity did flock in surprising and perhaps significant numbers to the ring where two men fought until one was pretty badly defeated, and in spite of the fact that anything given that kind of a start in London is quite likely to be copied over here, one is disposed to say with Dr. Anna Howard Shaw—don't let's worry.

Possibly it may happen that the very same scenes may be enacted over here in the fullness of time, but if that day ever comes the women in attendance will be drawn there through the craving for something new in the way of entertainment. There are, and always have been, almost from the beginning of time, thoughtless and unoccupied women, as Dr. Shaw puts it, who have nothing to do but follow the latest whim. If it leads to encounters hitherto counted just a bit questionable, even for men, they may cheerfully follow on, but the great, busy army of intelligent, purposeful women will calmly, unbrokenly move along, their time and their minds too thoroughly occupied with other things to pause to clap their hands over fights.

Though, be it remembered, that same busy army mightily likes to see men physically well-trained, and if boxing is part of the training, let them box to their heart's content, but it does seem advisable to let them box and train alone. For the contests, particularly the professional games, are much too rough-and-tumble for "gentle women" to see. And beside, there's always the chance of a "knockout" at the last, which is not supposed to appeal over-much to women of gentle variety.

In passing, there are two distinct worlds, are they not? One for the women who sigh for more amusements to conquer and who fritter their lives away, and one for the others who work for the merest pittance, from dawn to darkest night. And when each thinks and speaks of the other, what are the words that are said?

Procrastination.

A gentleman who had been in Chicago only three days, but who had been paying attention to a prominent Chicago belle, wanted to propose, but was afraid he would be thought too hasty. He delicately broached the subject as follows: "If I were to speak to you of marriage, after having only made your acquaintance three days ago, what would you say to it?"

"Well, I should say never put off till tomorrow that which you should have done the day before yesterday."

Got His Audience.

Senator Nathan P. Bryan of Florida is a bull head, and never lets business in this respect interfere with pleasure. But he is as much of an expert on horseback as he is in deciphering batting averages, while his prowess as a cowpuncher would make even Buffalo Bill jealous. It was his ability to crack a whip like unto a pistol shot which won him one day an audience for his electioneering speech.

He was in a small town where every one was too busy gossiping to attend any political meeting. Not a soul, except an old colored man asleep on a barrel, two boys playing marbles, a mule and three dogs, was in sight. The senator, neat and slender over the dusty road and the hum of bees filtered through the quivering air. Folks were warm and did not want to stir about.

Bryan saw a long leather whip lying on a store porch. Jerking it up, he swung it around his head and snapped it with a loud crack that sounded like a pistol shot.

In five minutes there were 20 men in sight, as well as about 50 small boys, a dozen women and several hundred dogs—and Bryan had his audience!—Washington Star.

Of Two Evils.

A Composite Statue.

There stands within the walls of the little parish church of St. James, in Yarmouth, Isle of Wight, what is probably the most curious statue in the world. This is a fine white marble representation of Sir Robert Holmes, a dashing seaman, who was captain of the Wight from 1667 to 1692.

Sir Robert, as well as being an admirable soldier, was also a bit of a joker. On one of his nautical raids he captured a French vessel that had on board an unfinished statue intended to represent Le Grand Monarque, Louis XIV. Holmes did not make the sculptor, who was on board, walk the plank, but he did compel that artist to finish the statue in the likeness of his captor.

The head of Holmes, but the body was that of King Louis XIV. The contrast is striking and humorous, and, as the guide book says, "the statue is well worth a visit, if only to see the incongruity of partnership between a buccaneer face and a regal body."—New York Tribune.

Sam's Dilemma.

Sam's friends were reasoning with him patiently at the street corner. "Now, Sam, it's time you went home. That's the best place for you." "It's this way," argued the erring brother. "If I don't go home now she'll say I'm drunk."

SCHOOL SUPPLY CONTRACTS.

Board of Education Awards Them at a Special Meeting.

An adjourned meeting of the board of education was held on Monday afternoon at the superintendent's office in School No. 7, at 4 o'clock. The meeting was attended by trustees Kearney, Washburn, De Witt, Halloran, Weiss, Rafferty, Salsmann, and Superintendent Michael.

The reading of the minutes of the last meeting was called for, opening the bids for the supplies and other materials that will be needed next year, was taken up. Mr. Michael said that he had sent letters to all the different book stores in the city asking them to submit their bids on the next year's supplies and that but two had submitted estimates, those being Forsyth & Davis and William O'Reilly.

Forsyth & Davis submitted the following bids: For drawing supplies $582.01; for text books $1,660.36; for general supplies $718.39; for library books $547.96; for paper $574.55.

William O'Reilly's bids were as follows: For drawing supplies $532; for text books, $1,675.75; for general supplies $670; for library books $547.96; for paper $333.71.

Upon motion it was carried that the contract be awarded to the lowest bid of each respective division of the entire contract so that Forsyth & Davis received the contract for the text books and library books and William O'Reilly the contracts for the drawing supplies, the general supplies and the paper.

Bids for the laboratory supplies of both Kingston and Ulster Academies were asked for and no one responded but William Ellinge, who gave an estimate of $382.01 for Kingston Academy and $18.82 for Ulster Academy. This bid did not cover all the supplies that are required, but the additional things needed will only amount to a few dollars more, so the contract was awarded to Mr. Ellinge.

Mr. Clearwater, from the telephone company, was present and spoke about the installation of the trolley phones throughout the new high school. The board had expected to have a private phone system in the building and had included the expense of building it in the contract that was let to Mr. Kelly. Mr. Clearwater said that the private line was far inferior to the public one and that the board would be constantly required to keep it in repair beside the first cost of buying all the phones and wires. The board pays now nearly two hundred dollars a year for phones and if it decides to accept the company's proposition it will cost but $679.60 a year which includes not only the first cost of construction but all the repairs that would be required for the year. This also includes the phones now in the different schools.

The president of the board and the superintendent were instructed to interview Mr. Kelly and see how much he would reduce his contract if the telephone company's proposition was accepted.

The meeting then adjourned.

BOOMING TRADE IN TEXAS.

The Most Popular Day of the Month in Texas.

In Farm and Fireside Z. E. Black writes, as follows, about an interesting custom that has grown up in Texas:

"Down in Texas the first Monday in each month is 'Trades Day,' and is the brightest, happiest, busiest day of the month for many a town. As early as eight o'clock every road is crowded with farm wagons, buggies, and automobiles. The entire family comes, including the hired hand and the little dog under the wagon. 'Business and pleasure are combined. The men trade live stock, farm machinery, and land; exchange experiences concerning crops, cultural methods, and animals; and some 'swap lies.' Men are here from a distance with fine stock for sale. Spirited auctions are going on all the time. Usually the Commercial Club offers prizes for the best colts, etc.; a premium for the farmer who comes the longest distance, and many other competitions. The merchants all put on special 'First Monday' sales, and these are real reductions in prices. For the small-town merchant is now having to compete with the mail-order house in earnest. These trade days keep many a dollar at home."

"The 'big brass band' plays almost continuously. The ladies of the town serve monstrous 'chicken-pie dinners.' There are handy rest-rooms for the farmers' wives. Free tickets to matinees at the 'movies' are given to every visitor in town by the various merchants. Usually the town boys and the country boys play baseball. There are horse races on at the park. Lectures on various farm subjects, or rather illustrated talks, are rendered by state of government experts."

"It is a great occasion. The townspeople and those from the rural districts mingle. Mrs. Jones, from the Happy Hollow community, exchanges recipes with the wife of the leading banker of the town. The women of the farm swap settings of eggs, 'gossip,' and otherwise enjoy themselves. The children, the hired men, and the little dog under the wagon have a good time. 'Far more important than financial benefits of these 'First Mondays' is the fact that the break the monotony of farm life—a necessity for the happiness of men, women and children living in isolated farms."

The buzz of the saw mill is a sound pleasant to the ear as it denotes work, action, something being done and from all appearance they are doing quite a business taking it in consideration they have only started. Men are here from a distance with fine stock for sale. Spirited auctions are going on all the time. Usually the Commercial Club offers prizes for the best colts, etc.; a premium for the farmer who comes the longest distance, and many other competitions. The merchants all put on special 'First Monday' sales, and these are real reductions in prices. For the small-town merchant is now having to compete with the mail-order house in earnest. ## DECKER FOUND A STOLEN HORSE

The Poughkeepsie Enterprise says: Daniel A. Decker of Kerhonkson, a well known huckleberry dealer who has supplied the leading stores and restaurants of Poughkeepsie with choice mountain blueberries for the past twenty years, played a clever ruse on a horse thief whom he met on the Shawangunk mountains late Sunday night, and brought the man to New Paltz, where he is now in custody with his booty. As a consequence the horse and rig, worth nearly $200, will be returned to their rightful owner after a wild night on the mountainside.

Mr. Decker related the curious adventure into which he ran. As he was coming over the Shawangunks between Kerhonkson and Lake Minnewaska a man came out of the mountains, leading a pony and buckboard down a mountain trail. It was then practically dark, but in the fitful gleams from the moon he saw a man who he thought was a horse thief. Mr. Decker could dimly make out the form of a young man who appeared to be quite uneasy. He approached Mr. Decker and inquired the road to Newburgh.

The circumstances were so suspicious that Mr. Decker parried the question and remarked that he seemed to have a fine horse on the buckboard. The young man agreed, and after a moment's hesitation asked if Mr. Decker would like to buy the rig. The price was inquired, and without any of the preliminary huckstering that usually precedes a horse trade, the man said he would accept thirty dollars. Mr. Decker stating that he was provided with a horse and buckboard of his own, said that while he could not use the pony in his own business, he would find a buyer if the young man would come down to New Paltz with him. This proposition was accepted, and in a burst of generosity, the young man offered him $5 if he could find a purchaser at the agreed price of $30.

In New Paltz the young man became suspicious again, and decided that he did not wish to unhook his animal and feed him, evidently fearing that he might need to depart in a hurry. Then it was that Mr. Decker had to assure him rather positively that he must unhook and feed his horse, while he, Decker, went after a buyer. Reluctantly the young man did as he was told, and in the meantime the berry dealer had located the chief of police and put him on the lookout.

Then Mr. Decker telephoned the Napanoch Reformatory, near Ellenville, and learned that none of the prisoners were missing. He then got hold of Harry Farrington of the same place, a horse dealer and liveryman, and upon giving the description of the pony and buckboard was told that the rig belonged to Farrington. He asked Mr. Decker to have the man held.

So the chief of police went down and arrested the man, and DeWitt DePuy, the constable, upon taking charge of the rig, immediately recognized the young man as one of a pair seen by him on Pine Bush mountain Sunday afternoon, about sixteen

BOTH TEAMS IN TRAINING.

Dr. Collier Has the Doctors on Greatly Restricted Diet.

Several hundred tickets have already been sold for the baseball game between the cops and the medical fraternity at Athletic Field on Saturday, July 25. Dr. Collier has taken the medicos under his wing for the training table and has restricted the athletic members of the fraternity to a strict diet. All high balls, anti-phlogistin cocktails and other summer beverages have been placed on the taboo list and the trainer thinks he has his men in fine fettle for the match.

While the cops are working hard to keep away all germs of the sleeping sickness and other diseases which raise hob with the athletes the cops are training on buttermilk from Gus Graff's farm on the road to Lapala. Some differences have arisen over the choice of an umpire but as it now appears this will probably be submitted to arbitration and Mayor Canfield as president of the police board will be called in to suggest some method of quelling the disturbance. Mediators may bring order, or chaos, but this will not in Camp Anawana, and the boys can

Two of the most enjoyable occasions of each day are the chapel hour in the forenoon and the jolly time around the camp fire in the evening after dark. A special day has been set aside when the Board of Directors, the Ladies' Auxiliary, and anyone who is interested in the jolly time around the camp fire

A Cottage of Unusual Design

FIRST FLOOR PLAN

SECOND FLOOR PLAN

This is a very pretty and desirable summer home and as the plans do not include a cellar or heating plant it can be built very cheaply. The exterior is stucco over wire lath, with a green shingle roof and the timbers stained a dark brown. It is finished throughout in hard wood.

The first floor consists of a wide porch that can be screened for summer, an unusually large living room, a conveniently arranged kitchen and pantry, and a rear porch. Three bedrooms, hall and bath room on the second floor.

At a possible increase of five hundred dollars above estimated cost it could readily be converted into an all-the-year-round home.

The itemized cost of construction is here given.

Excavation $50
Millwork 300

Stonework 150
Brickwork 50
Plumbing, etc. 240
Carpenter work 325
Painting and Glazing 200

DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH, AS SHE APPEARS "ON THE STUMP."

The Duchess of Marlborough.

Newport, R. I., July 14.—The above photograph was taken here at the home of the Duchess of Marlborough's mother, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, here during the Political Equality Association conference which was held at Mrs. Belmont's, at the time that the Duchess was pleading for the cause of suffrage and the betterment of conditions for working women. The Duchess has been visiting her mother for several weeks.

Drama Followed the Dance.

In ancient times the dance was the first mode of entertainment; then came the drama, derived from a Greek word, meaning "to act." In Greece it was given in the open or in buildings, known as theaters, a Greek word meaning "to r."

The Difference.

An Atchison man who never held one job over two weeks, died not long ago, and people said he was a genius out of his sphere. When he was alive they said he was a loafer.

Clocks and Time.

The punishment does sometimes fit the crime. An individual who for some months past specialized in thefts of clocks was last week given time.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 14.—The selling movement which developed in the stock market yesterday following the announcement of the Interstate Commerce Commission's decision in regard to the New Haven system, continued in force at the opening today with the result that the list was weak. Both the standards and specialties were freely supplied, but at the end of thirty minutes a better tone prevailed and a number of issues had made partial recoveries.

Among the opening declines were the following: Amalgamated Copper, %; Atchison, %; United States Steel Common, %; Union Pacific, %; Third Avenue, %; Southern Pacific, %; Reading, %; Penna., %; New York, New Haven and Hartford, %; Norfolk and Western, %; New York Central, %; Missouri Pacific, %; St. Paul, %; Central Leather, %; and Atchison, %.

New Haven showed evidences of support. California Petroleum was one of the few exceptions to the opening weakness, gaining more than two points. Miami Copper made a fractional gain. The curb was heavy. Americans in London were quiet.

Noon—Heavy selling in the late forenoon of a number of issues which had been under pressure for some time, made some amount of gain. New Haven, however, continued weak, and declined 1 1/2 to 54 1/2. California Petroleum lost 1/4 of its early gain. Other advances were U. S. Steel Common, 1/4; Union Pacific, %; Reading, %; Missouri Pacific, %; and Amalgamated Copper, %.

Call money loaning at 2 1/2 per cent. 2:30 p. m.—A better tone prevailed in the last hour. A number of issues were fractionally above the early afternoon range. Amalgamated Copper sold around 69 1/2, against 69 1/4 at noon. Missouri Pacific, which opened at 10 1/4, held around 11 1/4. New York, New Haven and Hartford sold at 55 1/4. Union Pacific was also slightly higher.

The stock market closed steady, governments unchanged; other bonds steady.

Her Investigation

By MARTHA V. MONROE.

John Ackerman had proposed to Helen Markley and was accepted on condition. Helen was a practical, farseeing girl. She resolved before their engagement was published to the world—indeed, before it was suspected—to inquire about him.

She had the frankness to tell him what she was going to do. He said that he would be willing to have her take that and any other precaution she thought proper and was quite willing to wait for his answer until she had satisfied herself in the matter.

One thing Ackerman insisted on which his fiancée balked at. He wished to hear the reports she got of him and who made them. Miss Markley didn't think this would be honorable in her. Ackerman replied that there could surely be no harm in her telling him who had spoken well of him, and it was his right to know who had spoken ill of him. She yielded the point and agreed to tell him all.

The next three months were rather a trying time between the lovers. When Miss Markley heard her lover well spoken of she was very gracious to him. When some one spoke ill of him she could not conceal the effect it had on her. When two of the three months had elapsed she wrote him a note, breaking the engagement between them. He called on her and she refused to receive him.

He wrote her a note stating that he supposed some one had spoken ill of him and reminded her of the agreement that he should hear the good and the bad. She replied that she had decided against him on the testimony of one whose word was unimpeachable, and nothing he could say would serve to eradicate the impression that had been made upon her.

It now seemed to Mr. Ackerman that it was time to depart from the defensive and take up the offensive. He had well understood from the beginning that if his fiancée could get persons to talk about him as they really felt there were plenty who would speak ill of him. The shortest way to neutralize what these persons said was to have a few words spoken by supposed friends of Miss Markley when the time came to use them. He therefore made inquiries about her on the same lines she inquired about him. Since he could not get a word with her he fired a preliminary shot.

He wrote her of his investigations, which he said he did not in the least value, but he had kept a written list of them that he would be pleased to compare with what she had gathered about him. This put a different face on the matter. Miss Markley was not only curious to know what people had said about her, but she did not wish the man she had discarded to be prejudiced against her. She consented to a meeting.

Ackerman called with a little memorandum book in his pocket. Miss Markley received him coldly and asked him to produce his notes.

"First," he said, "is what was told me by Miss A. when I asked her what kind of a person you were."

"She hates me."

"Nevertheless she spoke highly of you. 'Miss Markley,' she said, 'is a lovely girl.'"

"The serpent."

"Now," said Ackerman, "I have given you one criticism of yourself. I would like to hear one criticism, the one that decided you to drop me. Perhaps I may be content with his name alone."

"Paul Gunter."

"That is quite sufficient. I hold Mr. Gunter's note for $500. He gave it to me in lieu of being criminally prosecuted by me for a proceeding which, to say the least, was irregular."

Ackerman, who spoke these words with a change of manner, arose to go.

"Have you the note?" asked Miss Markley.

"I have, but it is under lock and key. You are the only person except Mr. Gunter and I who knows that I possess it."

"Where are you going?"

"There is no necessity of going any further in this matter. Thus far there has been no betrayal of confidence, at least by me. I have proved that your plan of getting opinions about the man you would marry is a failure."

"What is a girl to do?" moaned Helen.

en. "When she consents to link her life with a man she takes a step in the dark."

Ackerman had gone to the door and placed his hand upon the knob. He turned and walked back to her.

"It is that step in the dark that leads me to forgive you for what you have done. Marriage, you know, has been truly called a lottery, a lottery for the man as well as the woman. But we must take it or fail to fulfill our natural destiny. Every woman before marriage should, so far as possible, learn what she can about the man she expects to marry, but she can only learn through others of his general standing in the community. What he is in his inner self she cannot learn from others. Politic persons will speak well even of an enemy; prejudiced persons will find it difficult not to malign those against whom they are prejudiced."

The next day the engagement between Mr. Ackerman and Miss Markley was announced. Every one who congratulated either of them spoke well of the other.

Inhabitability of Mars.

The question of the habitability of Mars is one on which astronomers differ greatly. The sole evidence in favor of the existence of intelligent beings on it is the obviously artificial nature of the so-called canals as some astronomers see them. There cannot be said to be evidence of additional canal construction on the planet, the whole question of the existence of any canal being still a matter of controversy.

Expected a Real Boat Ride.

A contest, for the enlargement of the Sunday school, entitled "A Trip to Palestine," had been planned by the superintendent. One mother, whose son George was a member of the school, hearing that the superintendent intended taking the scholars for a boat ride, hastened to remark, "Then can go what wants to, but I don't know whether I'll let George go or not."—National Monthly.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 14.—The selling movement which developed in the stock market yesterday following the announcement of the Interstate Commerce Commission's decision in regard to the New Haven system, continued in force at the opening today with the result that the list was weak.

Both the standards and specialties were freely supplied, but at the end of thirty minutes a better tone prevailed and a number of issues had made partial recoveries. Among the opening declines were the following: Amalgamated Copper, 1/2; Atchison, 1/2; United States Steel Common, 1/2; Union Pacific, 1/2; Third Avenue, 1/2; Southern Pacific, 1/2; Reading, 1/2; Penna., 1/2; New York, New Haven and Hartford, 1/2; Norfolk and Western, 1/2; New York Central, 1/2; Missouri Pacific, 1/2; St. Paul, 1/2; Central Leather, 1/2; and Atchison, 1/2. New Haven showed evidences of support. California Petroleum was one of the few exceptions to the opening weakness, gaining more than two points.

Miami Copper made a fractional gain. The curb was heavy. Americans in London were quiet.

Noon—Heavy selling in the late forenoon of a number of issues which had been under pressure for some time, made some amount of gain. New Haven, however, continued weak, and declined 1 1/2 to 54 1/2.

California Petroleum lost 1/2 of its early gain. Other advances were U. S. Steel Common, 1/2; Union Pacific, 1/2; Reading, 1/2; Missouri Pacific, 1/2; and Amalgamated Copper, 1/2. Call money loaning at 2 1/2 per cent.

2:30 p. m.—A better tone prevailed in the last hour. A number of issues were fractionally above the early afternoon range. Amalgamated Copper sold around 69 1/2 against 69 1/2 at noon. Missouri Pacific, which opened at 10 1/4, held around 11 1/4. New York, New Haven & Hartford sold at 55 1/4. Union Pacific was also slightly higher.

The stock market closed steady, governments unchanged; other bonds steady.

Her Investigation

By MARTHA V. MONROE.

John Ackerman had proposed to Helen Markley and was accepted on condition. Helen was a practical, farseeing girl. She resolved before their engagement was published to the world—indeed, before it was suspected—to inquire about him.

She had the frankness to tell him what she was going to do. He said that he would be willing to have her take that and any other precaution she thought proper and was quite willing to wait for his answer until she had satisfied herself in the matter.

One thing Ackerman insisted on which his fiancée balked at. He wished to hear the reports she got of him and who made them. Miss Markley didn't think this would be honorable in her. Ackerman replied that there could surely be no harm in her telling him who had spoken well of him, and it was his right to know who had spoken ill of him. She yielded the point and agreed to tell him all.

The next three months were rather a trying time between the lovers. When Miss Markley heard her lover well spoken of she was very gracious to him. When some one spoke ill of him she could not conceal the effect it had on her. When two of the three months had elapsed she wrote him a note, breaking the engagement between them. He called on her and she refused to receive him.

He wrote her a note stating that he supposed some one had spoken ill of him and reminded her of the agreement that he should hear the good and the bad. She replied that she had decided against him on the testimony of one whose word was unimpeachable, and nothing he could say would serve to eradicate the impression that had been made upon her.

It now seemed to Mr. Ackerman that it was time to depart from the defensive and take up the offensive. He had well understood from the beginning that if his fiancée could get persons to talk about him as they really felt there were plenty who would speak ill of him. The shortest way to neutralize what these persons said was to have a few words spoken by supposed friends of Miss Markley when the time came to use them. He therefore made inquiries about her on the same lines she inquired about him. Since he could not get a word with her he fired a preliminary shot.

He wrote her of his investigations, which he said he did not in the least value, but he had kept a written list of them that he would be pleased to compare with what she had gathered about him. This put a different face on the matter. Miss Markley was not only curious to know what people had said about her, but she did not wish the man she had discarded to be prejudiced against her. She consented to a meeting.

Ackerman called with a little memorandum book in his pocket. Miss Markley received him coldly and asked him to produce his notes.

"First," he said, "is what was told me by Miss A. when I asked her what kind of a person you were."

"She hates me."

"Nevertheless she spoke highly of you," Miss Markley, she said, "is a lovely girl."

"The serpent."

"Now," said Ackerman, "I have given you one criticism of yourself. I would like to hear one criticism, the one that decided you to drop me. Perhaps I may be content with his name alone."

"Paul Gunter."

"That is quite sufficient. I hold Mr. Gunter's note for $500. He gave it to me in lieu of being criminally prosecuted by me for a proceeding which, to say the least, was irregular."

Ackerman, who spoke these words with a change of manner, arose to go.

"Have you the note?" asked Miss Markley.

"I have, but it is under lock and key. You are the only person except Mr. Gunter and I who knows that I possess it."

"Where are you going?"

"There is no necessity of going any further in this matter. This far there has been no betrayal of confidence, at least by me. I have proved that your plan of getting opinions about the man you would marry is a failure."

"What is a girl to do?" moaned Helen.

en. "When she consents to link her life with a man she takes a step in the dark."

Ackerman had gone to the door and placed his hand upon the knob. He turned and walked back to her.

"It is that step in the dark that leads me to forgive you for what you have done. Marriage, you know, has been truly called a lottery, a lottery for the man as well as the woman. But we must take it or fall to fulfill our natural destiny. Every woman before marriage should, so far as possible, learn what she can about the man she expects to marry, but she can only learn through others of his general standing in the community. What he is in his inner self she cannot learn from others. Politic persons will speak well even of an enemy; prejudiced persons will find it difficult not to malign those against whom they are prejudiced."

The next day the engagement between Mr. Ackerman and Miss Markley was announced. Every one who congratulated either of them spoke well of the other.

Inhabitability of Mars.

The question of the habitability of Mars is one on which astronomers differ greatly. The sole evidence in favor of the existence of intelligent beings on it is the obviously artificial nature of the so-called canals as some astronomers see them. There cannot be said to be evidence of additional canal construction on the planet, the whole question of the existence of any canal being still a matter of controversy.

Expected a Real Boat Ride.

A contest, for the enlargement of the Sunday school, entitled "A Trip to Palestine," had been planned by the superintendent. One mother, whose son George was a member of the school, hearing that the superintendent intended taking the scholars for a boat ride, hastened to remark, "Then can go what wants to, but I don't know whether I'll let George go or not."—National Monthly.

In his younger days Mr. Scott was a stage villain of the deepest dye, and one of his favorite parts was that of the wicked Levison in "East Lynne." After playing the character a few months in Blackpool he had occasion wishing to change his lodgings and knocking at the door of a house in the next street, was greeted by the landlady who opened it with a shriek and the subsequent exclamation: "What! ## EVERETT DIVORCE CASE.

Family Row in Connecticut Precipitated by Kingston Visitors.

The Norwich, Conn., Record of July 10 says:

Sarah C. Everett of this city was granted a divorce for desertion from Archibald Carlyle Everett of Philadelphia.

The couple were married in 1895 in New York. They lived in Hartford for a time but most of their married life was passed in Norwich. Mr. Everett for years was bookkeeper for the International Silver Company at Thosville. The couple lived together until 1911, when Mr. Everett began to act in a queer manner and could not work on account of nervousness. He began to abuse his wife. Later his sister and her husband came here from Kingston, N. Y., broke up the Everett home, sold most of the things and stored some and Mrs. Everett was left with neighbors. Her youngest child was taken from her arms and carried away and she was left broken hearted and homeless. Later the wife got the child back under pretense of a visit and kept it, according to the law. The house the couple owned was also sold when the home went. The story of the wronged wife was a sad one.

John Woodmansee, Chauncey C. Sherman, Mr. Edwidge Hooker and Mrs. Rose Turner, a sister of the plaintiff, corroborated the story told by Mrs. Everett.

The decree was granted for desertion and the wife was given the custody of her children, aged 17 and 9 years. John D. Hall was attorney. Her maiden name was Barrett.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, July 14.—The fight fans just now are clamoring for a battle between Kid Williams, bantam champion, and Patsey Brannigan, one of the top-notchers in that class, and a man whose past record certainly seems to entitle him to another chance at the title.

Brannigan, who now is under the management of Ed. Fritz of New-castle, Pa., battled Williams before the Baltimore youth was champion, fought with Johnny Coulon, while he held the title, and fought two battles with Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion. And in every one of these fights Brannigan was credited with a draw, although in each case he was from two to seven pounds lighter than his opponent.

Brannigan, who has been called "whirlwind" Brannigan because of his rushing ring tactics, has fought 350 times, has lost but one decision and that on points, and has never been floored, which is some record, and one which the fighting public feels entitled Brannigan to another chance at the championship.

Brannigan's friends always have claimed that instead of being given draws in his battles with Coulon and Williams he should have been given the decision, as he outslugged and outfought both men.

"If Brannigan and Williams get together the fans can count on seeing a bang-up fighting exhibition," said Manager Fritz. "Both boys fight from the tap of the gong until the finish, both can hit and both are skilled boxers. I think my boy Brannigan is the better of the two, and if Williams will give me a match in the fall or early in the winter, I am confident that when the battle is over there'll be another bantamweight champion—and his name will be Brannigan."

Johnny Dougherty has pulled one of the funniest tricks in pugilistic history.

Johnny used to manage Al McCoy, who wears the title of middleweight champion, but which title doesn't seem to fit him at all. Johnny managed Al until Dan Morgan, a rival manager, came along and weaned Al away from Johnny.

Losing his "champeen" upset Dougherty for a time. Then he thought himself of a brilliant idea. He had in his "stable" a likely looking middleweight named Alexander Theil. Johnny took Theil to court and had him make application for permission to change his name. Permission was granted and Alexander Theil at once changed his name to Al McCoy.

So you see, even though Johnny did lose one Al McCoy, he has another and Johnny is telling everybody right now that as soon as he can clinch off the rough edges, Alexander Theil-Al McCoy will be able to hammer the daylight out of the "champeen" managed Al McCoy.

Young Ahearn, who wasn't much shucks hereabouts as a middleweight warrior, is being heralded throughout England as "one of the most brilliant boxers of the present day" and as "a man who soon will hold the undisputed championship of the world." Ahearn has made a great hit in England by putting away all the fourth and fifth rate scrappers who have been lined up against him.

Boxing is becoming more popular every day in Australia, declares Bind, although occasional reports are heard of tigers, panthers, leopards, wolves and hyenas. The jackal is very common, while bears are sometimes seen in the hills. The gad or wild sheep, the ibex, the chinkers, the black buck and the hog deer are comparatively common, while the wild pig is very prevalent at times.

Good Hunting Country.

Wild animals are not numerous in Bind, although occasional reports are heard of tigers, panthers, leopards, wolves and hyenas. The jackal is very common, while bears are sometimes seen in the hills. The gad or wild sheep, the ibex, the chinkers, the black buck and the hog deer are comparatively common, while the wild pig is very prevalent at times.

Truth vs. Falsehood.
Truth is irresistible. Falsehood may for a time stay its progress, but it cannot prevent its eventual triumph. An economic fact, founded on nature, will win its way despite the combined forces of those who benefit by inequitable customs and wicked laws. There can be but one conclusion to the battle of truth vs. falsehood.

Grabbing the gaping ends of Mr. Sweeney's pantaloons, Mr. Maizel escorted the catcher to the club house.

VOTING MACHINE RESOLUTION VETOED

Mayor Canfield Not in Favor of Spending Thousands of Dollars on Unfamiliar Toys Without Further Investigation.

Does the city need voting machines? Alderman William Martin evidently believed so for at the last meeting of the common council he offered a resolution which was passed authorizing the presiding officer of the city fathers to appoint a committee of three to enter into a contract for the purchase of voting machines for the city. The fact that the voters in the city had never used a voting machine and in a number of instances had never seen one, made no difference to those who believe that they are capable of doing the thinking for the entire city.

Mayor Canfield, however, this afternoon filed a veto with City Clerk Cummings calling attention to the fact that the resolution would mean an expenditure of from $7,800 to $12,600 and stating that he had no objection to one of the voting machines being tried out during the next election. The mayor's veto in full reads as follows:

"I herewith return the resolution of Alderman Martin providing for the appointment of a committee to purchase voting machines for the various wards of the city, with my disapproval.

"The resolution does not refer to the proposal of the company, but provides absolutely for the purchase of voting machines and practically directs the committee to purchase them. Such purchase would mean an expenditure of from $7,800 to $12,600, depending upon the number of districts, and double that amount if two machines should be installed in each district. We do not know whether it would prove to be a satisfactory substitute for the present system in force in our city or whether the people would approve of it.

"I have no objection to a trial and the installation of a voting machine in any ward during the next election upon trial in case the alderman of the ward desires it. I cannot approve, however, the city fastening itself to the system of voting at the large expenditure it will incur without such a trial that the people will understand it and favor it.

Respectfully,
PALMER CANFIELD, JR., Mayor.

Compulsory Education.

Although six states in the union are still without compulsory school attendance laws, and four others have laws that apply only partially, definite progress during the past decade is reported in a bulletin just issued by the United States Bureau of Education. Since 1905 eight states previously without compulsory laws have adopted them, and it is thought to be a matter of only a few years when compulsory school attendance will be effected in every state and territory of the United States.

The six states still without compulsory school laws are: South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, and Texas. The four local-option states, where the law is in effect in certain counties only, are Maryland, Virginia, Arkansas, and Louisiana.

The bureau's investigation of the subject reveals a close connection between lack of compulsory attendance laws and illiteracy. The states rank in percentage of illiteracy very much in accordance with the length of time compulsory schooling has been in effect and the completeness with which it is enforced.

The states vary widely in number of years and amount of attendance required each year. The period of compulsory attendance is from 8 to 12 in North Carolina and Virginia. In most states it is 8 to 14 or 15. The present tendency is to raise the upper limit of compulsion. In 17 states the compulsory age limit is 16 years or above, in Idaho it is 18. As a general rule, however, children in all these states are allowed to leave school at 14 years of age if they secure employment or have completed the eighth grade in school. There is a constantly increasing effort to safeguard the child between 14 and 16 years of age, the period of special importance for the vocational preparation of most children.

As little as 12 weeks of school attendance during any one year may be required in Virginia, Oklahoma, Delaware, and Nebraska, while in Vermont and other states there must be 15 or more days of actual school attendance every year. Many states require attendance "during the full time school is in session, which may mean anything from 41 to 194 days. Some states secure attendance during long terms by conditioning state appropriations upon the number of days of actual school attendance.

A variety of exemptions are found in the laws of the different states. Connecticut and Arkansas will not enforce the compulsory attendance law "if the parent is not able to provide proper clothing" for the child. Physical or mental incapacity is a general exemption; another customary exemption is remoteness from school facilities. Occasionally exemptions are made on religious grounds. Thus the Michigan law exempts children from compulsory attendance between the ages of 12 and 14 while in attendance at confirmation classes for a period not to exceed 5 months in each of the two years.

Necessary factors in the enforcement of compulsory attendance laws are summed up as follows: An annual school census taken by the school authorities; prompt reports of unexcused absences by teachers in public and private schools; properly qualified attendance officers; state agents to see that the laws are enforced; special schools for truants and pupils irregular in attendance; relief for indigent parents having children of compulsory age; a definite annual period of attendance; well-enforced child-labor-laws; employment certificate made out to the employer; and proper penalties for all concerned in the enforcement of the law.

For Hardy Men

We have purposely made up a tobacco to appeal to the strong, vigorous man who wants full flavor and fragrance combined with natural sweetness in his smoke or chew. This tobacco is LIBERTY. It is designed especially to satisfy the tobacco hungry man. It fills the bill.

Firemen, policemen, out-of-doors men, two-fisted men in general, all say LIBERTY satisfies. Once they start using LIBERTY they cannot get the same satisfaction out of any other brand.

LIBERTY

has character to it. That's why it appeals to and pleases these men of strong character.

LIBERTY is made from pure Kentucky leaf, aged for three to five years, so as to bring out slowly and naturally all the juicy mellowness and richness of the tobacco. That's why its quality never varies—and that's why hurried-up, hashed-up tobaccos can't compare with LIBERTY.

In the strenuous hours of work or in the pleasant hours of relaxation, be sure to have some of this wonderful tobacco with you.

Sold everywhere in 5c packages.

EVERETT DIVORCE CASE.

Family Row in Connecticut Precipitated by Kingston Visitors.
The Norwich, Conn., Record of July 10 says:

Sarah C. Everett of this city was granted a divorce for desertion from Archibald Carlyle Everett of Philadelphia.

The couple were married in 1895 in New York. They lived in Hartford for a time but most of their married life was passed in Norwich. Mr. Everett for years was bookkeeper for the International Silver Company at Thamestown. The couple lived together until 1911, when Mr. Everett began to act in a queer manner and could not work on account of nervousness. He began to abuse his wife. Later his sister and her husband came here from Kingston. N. Y., broke up the Everett home, sold most of the things and stored some, and Mrs. Everett was left with neighbors. Her youngest child was taken from her arms and carried away and she was left broken hearted and homeless. Later the wife got the child back under pretense of a visit and kept it, according to the law. The house the couple owned was also sold when the home went. The story of the wronged wife was a sad one.

John Woodmansee, Chauncey C. Sherman, Mrs. Edwidge Hooker and Mrs. Rose Turner, a sister of the plaintiff, corroborated the story told by Mrs. Everett.

The decree was granted for desertion and the wife was given the custody of her children, aged 17 and 9 years. John D. Hall was attorney. Her maiden name was Barrett.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, July 14.—The fight fans just now are clamoring for a battle between Kid Williams, bantam champion, and Patsey Brannigan, one of the top-notchers in that class, and a man whose past record certainly seems to entitle him to another chance at the title.

Brannigan, who now is under the management of Ed. Fritz of New-castle, Pa., battled Williams before the Baltimore youth was champion, fought with Johnny Coulon, while he held the title, and fought two battles with Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion. And in every one of these fights Brannigan was credited with a draw, although in each case he was from two to seven pounds lighter than his opponent.

"Whirlwind" Brannigan because of his rushing ring tactics, has fought 350 times, has lost but one decision, and that on points, and has never been floored, which is some record, and one which the fighting public feels entitled Brannigan to another chance at the championship.

Brannigan's friends always have claimed that instead of being given draws in his battles with Coulon and Williams he should have been given the decision, as he outslugged and outfought both men.

If Brannigan and Williams get together the fans can count on seeing a bang-up fighting exhibition.

said Manager Fritz. "Both boys fight from the top of the gong until the finish, both can hit and both are skilled boxers. I think my boy Brannigan is the better of the two, and if Williams will give me a match in the fall or early in the winter, I am confident that when the battle is over there'll be another bantamweight champion—and his name will be Brannigan."

Johnny Dougherty has pulled one of the funniest tricks in pugilistic history. Johnny used to manage Al McCoy, who wears the title of middleweight champion, but which title doesn't seem to fit him at all. Johnny managed Al until Dan Morgan, a rival manager, came along and weaned Al away from Johnny.

Losing his "champion" upset Dougherty for a time. Then he both thought himself of a brilliant idea. He had in his "stable" a likely looking middleweight named Alexander. Then Johnny took Thel to court and had him make application for permission to change his name. Permission was granted and Alexander Thel at once changed his name to Al McCoy.

So you see, even though Johnny did lose one Al McCoy, he has another and Johnny is telling everybody right now that as soon as he can chin off the rough edges, Alexander Thel-Al McCoy will be able to hammer the daylights out of the new bantamweight champion Al McCoy.

Young Ahearn, who wasn't much shucks hereabouts as a middleweight warrior, is being heralded throughout England as "one of the most brilliant boxers of the present day" and as "a man who soon will hold the undisputed championship of the world." Ahearn has made a great hit in England by putting away all the fourth and fifth rate scrappers who have been lined up against him.

Boxing is becoming more popular every day in Australia, declares Snowy Baker, the Australian promoter, in a recent communication to friends here. Baker says that the whole island is all het up over the question of which man is the better in the middleweight division—Jimmy Clabby, Eddie McGoorty or Jeff Smith. Baker has written Billy Murray, the California middleweight, to hurry to Australia and mix in the elimination bouts that are soon to be arranged, to decide from Australia's viewpoint, which man is the best in the world.

Baker's idea is to match up the four men, the winners of the semi-final bouts to meet in the championship scrap. Baker declared that such a bout would bring a record gate.

Good Hunting Country.
Wild animals are not numerous in Sind, although occasional reports are heard of tigers, panthers, leopards, wolves and hyenas. The jackal is very common, while bears are sometimes seen in the hills. The gad or wild sheep, the ibex, the chinkers, the black buck and the hog deer are comparatively common, while the wild pig is very prevalent at times.

Truth vs. Falsehood.
Truth is irresistible. Falsehood may for a time stay its progress, but it cannot prevent its eventual triumph. An economic fact, founded on nature, will win its way despite the combined forces of those who benefit by inequitable customs and wicked laws. There can be but one conclusion to the battle of truth vs. falsehood.

Daily Thought.
He that bestows a gift should forget it; he that receives one should ever hold it in remembrance.—Solon.

For Hardy Men

We have purposely made up a tobacco to appeal to the strong, vigorous man who wants full flavor and fragrance combined with natural sweetness in his smoke or chew. This tobacco is LIBERTY. It is designed especially to satisfy the tobacco hungry man. It fills the bill.

Firemen, policemen, out-of-doors men, two-fisted men in general, all say LIBERTY satisfies. Once they start using LIBERTY they cannot get the same satisfaction out of any other brand.

LIBERTY

has character to it. That's why it appeals to and pleases these men of strong character.

LIBERTY is made from pure Kentucky leaf, aged for three to five years, so as to bring out slowly and naturally all the juicy mellowness and richness of the tobacco. That's why its quality never varies—and that's why hurried-up, hashed-up tobaccos can't compare with LIBERTY.

In the strenuous hours of work or in the pleasant hours of relaxation, be sure to have some of this wonderful tobacco with you.

Sold everywhere in 5c packages.

THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

An ill Wind.
"If nature had made me an ostrich," said young Mr. Lang, one morning, quite exasperated, "perhaps I could eat my cooking." "Yes, wouldn't that be fine," replied the wife, "then I would be able to get some new plumes for my winter hat."—National Monthly.

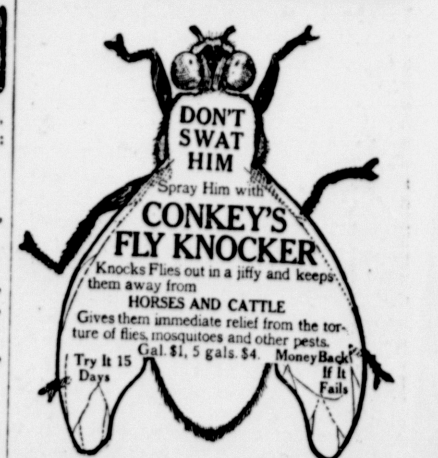

Life.
Life is a moving picture, and the film often breaks just at the interesting place.—Judge.

Burst of Eloquence.
This is from Australia: "Gentlemen, a member of the house has taken advantage of my absence to tweak my nose behind my back. I hope that the next time he abuses me behind my back like a coward he will do it to my face like a man, and not go skulking into the thicket to assail a gentleman who isn't present to defend himself."
